DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11 and 13 – 15, 17 – 20 as amended are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sumanaweera et al (US6359367, of record).

Sumanaweera et al teaches variously a method of interconnecting and structure for a cMUT membrane transducer in the form of a spiral or sparse spiral array may be micromachined onto a silicon or other substrate with element interconnections for spiral and/or sparse or approximate operation thereto, and with element emission faces on ‘top’ of the substrate in the emission direction sense, with interconnections detailed in Col. 2 and col. 3 lines 43 – 49, and with individually isolated connector traces or pads 22 positioned on the peripheral edge surface of the substrate as called for by the amended claim language and or in association with vias extending through the substrate per col. 3 lines 6 – 10. Otherwise the col. 2 description part “(B)” embraces deposition techniques which individually associate some electrodes with the peripheral surface (alternative to through-via) pads and others with interconnection in the sparse groupings. Wire bonding is entertained as an alternative for the connections, see Col. 7 lines 46 – 47.

Claims 17 – 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sumanaweera et al as applied to claim 11 above, and further in view of Baumgartner et al (US6831394, of record). Under this interpretation the method claim as amended is interpreted to demand that the membrane must be a top surface overall for the pad interconnection. [In other words, a lid may occupy a top surface of a cookie jar and the lid handle then be the top surface overall.] While Sumanaweera et al is silent as to this layering feature, Baumgartner et al in col. 4 lines 60 – 61 makes clear that the membrane electrode may be embedded in the membrane, whereupon the upper membrane surface would be the top surface overall for the device. Otherwise the features taught directly in Sumanaweera et al are invoked as above.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 – 2, 5 – 9 and 21 - 31 are allowed.

Claim 16 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
